

① a theory in pub ad in our times means a theory in politics also. Comment.

Eaton opined that politics is the authoritative allocation of values. This allocation of values can be seen in public administrative process in the form of policy formulation, deciding on course of redistributive allocations etc.

thus public administrative theories need to provide a theoretical framework for effective and efficient politics.

however the core focus remains on implementation aspects. NPM, DEG and market oriented re-organizational reforms seem to transform the implementational arm of govt.

Thus a theory in pub ad is incomplete without touching the broader qn of who to govern, ethos of social justice and broader political goals.
